

Equity in the Job Search (EJS) Symposium

Friday, May 21, 2021

What are we? EJS is an annual event that begins with a keynote on gender inequity in STEM fields and then provides practical, hands-on workshops to assist graduate students and postdocs for all stages of the job search. We integrate career advice with data-driven discussions of gender bias to expand the conversation of gender bias to a larger population. The guiding principle behind the symposium is to overcome bias for all.

Want to attend? Join us on Yale Connect: https://yaleconnect.yale.edu/GSASORGEJS/club\_signup and be sure to look out for event RSVP announcements later this Spring!

Want to get involved? The planning committee consists of graduate students and postdocs wanting to make the post-PhD job search more equitable for all. We will meet regularly to host a virtual symposium this May. Please contact ejs.yale@gmail.com and check out our website: www.equityinthejobsearch.sites.yale.edu